

NWC Questions

for Personal Study and Small Groups 10/16/11

Reversing the Irreversible:

The death of death in the resurrection of Christ

1 Cor. 15.12-34

Focus: calling the church to firmly believe in the bodily resurrection of Christ as the basis for their own hope that prevails against sin and death

Read 15.12-19. List the consequences of Christ not being raised. Which one is most alarming to you? Consider the opposite of each of these consequences and the hope that the surety of the resurrection brings in that light.

Read 15.20-28. What does this reveal about how the resurrection fits into God's great scheme of things? What hope for the future is embedded in this section?

Read 15.29-34. How is the hope of the resurrection supposed to affect how we live? How is that lacking in your life? How can you strengthen your hope in the resurrection such that it increasingly affects the way you live?

NWC Questions

for Personal Study and Small Groups 10/16/11

Reversing the Irreversible:

The death of death in the resurrection of Christ

1 Cor. 15.12-34

Focus: calling the church to firmly believe in the bodily resurrection of Christ as the basis for their own hope that prevails against sin and death

Read 15.12-19. List the consequences of Christ not being raised. Which one is most alarming to you? Consider the opposite of each of these consequences and the hope that the surety of the resurrection brings in that light.

Read 15.20-28. What does this reveal about how the resurrection fits into God's great scheme of things? What hope for the future is embedded in this section?

Read 15.29-34. How is the hope of the resurrection supposed to affect how we live? How is that lacking in your life? How can you strengthen your hope in the resurrection such that it increasingly affects the way you live?