

NWC Questions

for Personal Study and Small Groups 9/9/12

Deuteronomy 32 Moses' song (and ours!)

Focus: to call the church to repentance from their idolatry and to give them hope in God's compassionate restoration.

Read Moses song in it's entirety. Then review 31.19-22 and talk about why God had Moses write this song? What light do passages like Deut. 4.27-31 shed on it?

How does God reveal Himself in this song? What is most attractive about God in this song? What is most sobering?

How do you explain the people's response to God's great kindness (vv. 7-14) in verses 15-18? How do these sins find their way into your heart?

Verses 19-25 are a sobering portrait of God's judgment upon His own people. Does God still do that? How should this teaching affect us?

God's mercy triumphs in His people's lives in verses 26, 27 and 26-39. What do you learn about God's mercy from these verses? How does this passage anticipate the work of Jesus?

How do you think music and song should function in the life of God's people? when we gather together? For you privately? What music helps you do that and how do you use it towards that end? How do you make sure that the songs we sing corporately have their intended effect upon you?

NWC Questions

for Personal Study and Small Groups 9/9/12

Deuteronomy 32 Moses' song (and ours!)

Focus: to call the church to repentance from their idolatry and to give them hope in God's compassionate restoration.

Read Moses song in it's entirety. Then review 31.19-22 and talk about why God had Moses write this song? What light do passages like Deut. 4.27-31 shed on it?

How does God reveal Himself in this song? What is most attractive about God in this song? What is most sobering?

How do you explain the people's response to God's great kindness (vv. 7-14) in verses 15-18? How do these sins find their way into your heart?

Verses 19-25 are a sobering portrait of God's judgment upon His own people. Does God still do that? How should this teaching affect us?

God's mercy triumphs in His people's lives in verses 26, 27 and 26-39. What do you learn about God's mercy from these verses? How does this passage anticipate the work of Jesus?

How do you think music and song should function in the life of God's people? when we gather together? For you privately? What music helps you do that and how do you use it towards that end? How do you make sure that the songs we sing corporately have their intended effect upon you?